NAME: Carol Shapiro

TITLE: Registered Dietitian

BUSINESS: Farmers Branch Dialysis Center

STUDENT: Diana Mbabazi

Carol is a registered dietitian who graduated from Iowa State University in 1968. She did her internship at the University of Chicago hospitals and clinics and has worked in hospitals in Chicago, Detroit and the Houston area. Currently she works as a renal dietitian at the Farmers Branch Dialysis Center counseling dialysis patients on their dietary needs.

When she was young, her mother taught her how to knit and sew. Later, as an adult, she learned tatting, bobbin lace, then discovered spinning and weaving. As her interest in fiber crafts grew, she joined the Dallas Handweavers and Spinners Guild which is dedicated to promoting the art of weaving and the craft of fiber work through education, member activities and mutual support.

Her other hobbies include reading, cooking, travel, astronomy and playing with my grandchildren. She is married with two grown children and two grandchildren.
